

Dr Pepper Education Abroad Award Recipients

In 2014, Dr Pepper, a longtime Southeastern Conference corporate sponsor, allocated $100,000 to the conference to provide study abroad opportunities for high achieving SEC students with demonstrated financial need who represent non-traditional study abroad participants. Each SEC university will identify two students to participate in a faculty-led program during the 2015-16 and 2016-17 academic years. Below is a list of award recipients.
